

Biography of Chafika Behloul (CREG, Algeria)

Chafika Behloul is a thermal engineer with more than 10 years in power plant engineering, with Sonelgaz in the electricity production field. She participated in the projects of construction of more than 10 power plants of different technologies.

She joined the Commission for Electricity and Gas Regulation (CREG) in 2008, in the technical department and she's acting as the director of licensing and renewable energies since 2015, and managing currently the auction project lunch in 2018.

Chafika has been the Vice-Chair of the Environment, Renewable Energy Sources and Energy Efficiency Working Group (RES WG) since 2016, sharing her knowledge in the renewable energies, especially in developing countries and her experience in the renewable energies support schemes.