

Biography of Igor Telebak (REGAGEN, Montenegro)

Mr. Telebak serves as Economic Analyst at the Energy Regulatory Agency of Montenegro (REGAGEN). His work focuses on the determination of prices, analysis of costs, revenues and investment plans, as well as for settlement of corrections of allowed revenues and costs and supervision of the energy companies.

He also represents REGAGEN in international working groups in the Energy Community Secretariat and the National Association of Regulatory Utility Commissioners (NARUC).

Prior to joining REGAGEN, Mr. Telebak has worked as Teaching Assistant on the subject "Economy of energy" at the Faculty of International Economics, Finance and Business at the University of Donja Gorica, Podgorica (Montenegro).

He holds an MSc in International Economics and Finance and successfully completed an intensive program at the Florence School of Regulation (Italy), classifying as one of the top students.