

Biography of Anne-Lise Teani (CRE, France)

Anne-Lise Teani is the Deputy Director of the Directorate for European & International Affairs and Cooperation at French Energy Regulatory Commission (CRE).

In her role, she contributes to preparation and coordination of CRE's positions at the European level, in particular within the CEER and ACER, and the European institutions.

Ms. Teani oversees the promotion of CRE's expertise at the international level, both through bilateral exchanges and within regional associations such as MEDREG, and French-speaking countries (RegulaE).

She also contributes to the development of CRE's cooperation strategy in association with the French Embassies and the French Development Agency.

Ms. Teani holds a PhD in Public International Law and has previously worked as Teaching Assistant in constitutional law and public international law at the University of Burgundy.